

Hancock residents get first-hand viewpoint of Panama intervention

BY DENA BISNETTE
Hancock Countians who have just returned from Panama or are still there are reporting that Panamanians were not at all adverse to American intervention in the ousting of Gen. Manuel Noriega.

According to Chris Robertson of Diamondhead, who belongs to an Air Force Reserve Unit based at Keesler, there were signs in the streets of downtown Panama City which were directed at the Americans. He took photographs of some which said "Thank you" and "U R great".

Robertson is a major with the 815th Tactical Airlift Squadron, part of the 403rd Tactical Airlift Wing. The unit flies transport missions part of the time and handles weather reconnaissance work during the hurricane season.

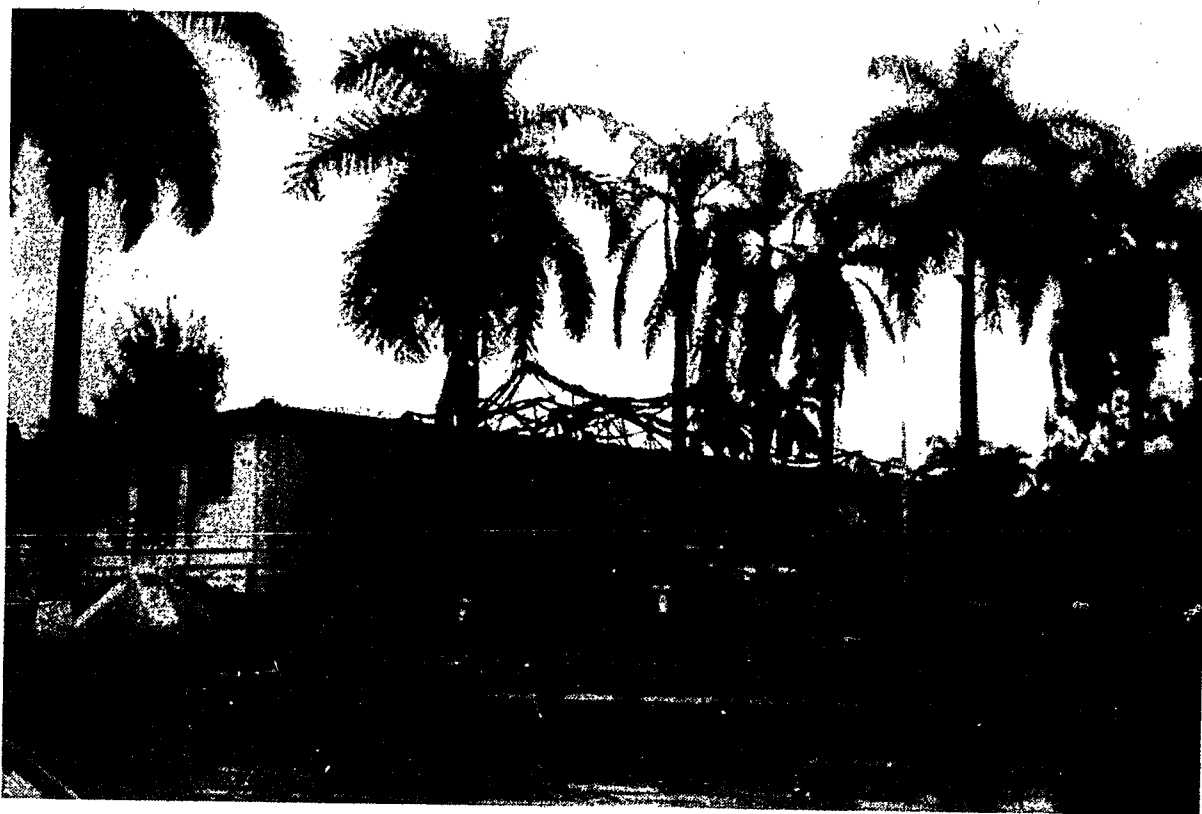

The unit ended up in Panama during the Noriega situation by coincidence, having been scheduled to handle transport missions during that particular time period anyway.

Several groups from Keesler went to Panama, but the 815th was the first to return, coming back on Saturday. Like the 815th, none of the others were sent for intervention; they were all scheduled to go to Panama on routine matters.

The 815th has contracted with the Air Force to fly supply and shuttle missions to various U.S. embassies. In Panama, they acted as an airborne taxi service, flying C-130 aircraft to take troops to various parts of the country.

At one point, Robertson and the others in his crew were told they might see combat. They never did, but one of the other crews with them saw gunfire

Waveland water rate change approved on temporary basis

BY DENA BISNETTE
In a special meeting Tuesday night, the Waveland Board of Aldermen voted to go back to the city's previous commercial water rates on an emergency basis.

The measure became effective immediately.

A new ordinance that became effective on Dec. 6 prompted complaints from commercial water users. That ordinance established minimum rates according to the size of the pipe serving the establishment, with the lowest rate at $25 and the highest at $75 per month.

Ward One Alderman Barbara Rappold said the new ordinance had been adopted partially to facilitate the new development which has been occurring in and around Chocataw Plaza recently.

Several merchants have complained about the new ordinance, saying it is unfair, and a few attended the meeting when they heard water rates would be

Wounded youth found in Waveland driveway

BY D.C. HARVILL
Waveland Police are investigating the shooting of a teenager found lying in the driveway of a residence in the city's Midletown neighborhood late Monday evening.

According to Waveland Police Chief Donald Dorn, a resident of 404 Tabor discovered the teen shortly before midnight upon investigating the source of moaning sounds in his yard.

The 16-year-old youth remains in the Intensive Care Unit at Hancock Medical Center after undergoing surgery Tuesday for a gunshot wound. The bullet entered the young male's upper right chest, exiting through his back, according to Dorn.

Investigators have been unable to question the victim because part of one of his lungs had to be removed and he has been connected to a respirator.

"He is doing fine, we just haven't been able to talk to him. Until we talk to him, we won't know what happened," Dorn said.

According to the chief, a .30/30 rifle was found approximately 200 yards from where the victim was discovered. The rifle had a discharged .357 magnum cartridge in the chamber and unfired rounds in the magazine.

Because it had been fired in a weapon for which it was not designed, the spent casing in the gun's barrel was "split to hell," Dorn said.

The investigators are not certain the teen's wound was inflicted by the rifle, the chief said.

UTTERING FORGERY

Bay St. Louis Police have arrested a Bay man on multiple charges.

J.W. Henry, 29, was arrested Friday at his 605 Bienville Dr. residence and charged with uttering forgery, according to Detective Tom Burleson.

On Monday, two warrants for burglary were executed against Henry while he was incarcerated in Hancock County Justice Facility.

The two burglary charges are in connection with break-ins at Bienville Drive and Louis Piernas Street homes. Checks and other items were taken from each of the two residences.

The forgery allegedly was committed on a check stolen in the Louis Piernas Street break in.

Henry's bond has been set at $10,000 for each of the three charges.

In December 1989, Henry had been arrested on uttering forgery charges on a warrant issued by Waveland, according to Burleson.

GRAND LARCENY

A Leetown woman has been arrested by the Hancock County Sheriff's Department and charged with two counts of grand larceny.

Raynell L. Fulton, 30, was arrested by Deputy George Burleson in Harrison County. She allegedly had stolen two lawn mowers, one in Leetown and one in Kiln, according to Investigator Nathan Hoda.

Fulton's has been released on a $1,000 bond.

Hancock volunteers needed for child abuse prevention

BY D.C. HARVILL
The South Mississippi Exchange Club is seeking Hancock County volunteers to help prevent child abuse.

Through its Family Child Center, volunteers in the group's Parent Aide program help preserve families by providing a means of overcoming the cycle of abuse that exists in some households.

"I refer to what we do as family advocacy. We work with a family to provide an alternative to children being taken out of a home and placed in a foster home," said Bridget Logan, the Center's executive director.

Welfare Department, Youth Court and various community agencies.

The Exchange Club, the nation's oldest and largest service organization, adopted the prevention of child abuse as a national project in 1979.

"We are pleased we are able to help and continue to support this program," said Billy Stechmann, president of Hancock County Exchange Club. The group will be holding fundraisers throughout the year to help support the program, he said.

As the club's president, Stechmann serves on the Center's board of directors. Club member Gwen Meyer and county home economist Darlene Underwood also are on the board.

The volunteers must be available for the client's emergency calls and commit to spending an allotted amount of time in contact with the family.

Airpark sewage discharge must meet new standard

BY D.C. HARVILL
The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission will have to update the sewerage treatment facility at Stennis Industrial Airpark to comply with new wastewater standards.

The commission learned Monday that the permit for the discharge from the park's wastewater treatment plant had expired and, before a new permit can be obtained, the effluent must meet new standards established by the State Bureau of Pollution Control.

According to Dick Murley, a representative of Cortech, the commission's engineering firm, the new regulations require that the chlorine level in the discharge be reduced from .5 to .01.

"That (the new level) is almost nondetectable. What they are saying is they don't want chlorine in the environment. You can rest assured the regulations will get tougher, not more lenient," Murley said.

According to the engineer, chlorine in streams kills fish and other organisms.

As their permits expire, all wastewater treatment facilities in the state will have to comply with the new standards before qualifying for new permits, he said.

A dechlorination system will have to be added to the present treatment facility to bring the effluent into compliance. Murley estimated the cost of the system to be between $10,000 and $15,000.

The facility currently complies with new standards for ammonia nitrogen levels because the system is operating well under its capacity. In the event the amount of sewerage processed by the system increases, the levels will have to be monitored to assure compliance, Murley said.

The program accomplishes its goals by placing volunteers in homes of families who are currently experiencing abuse or who display a potential for abuse. Client families are referred to the center by the

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

It was hard to understand how Wednesday afternoon was part of Wednesday morning.

Wednesday afternoon was so beautiful with the warm temperatures and clear skies.

The fact that we have had so much cold, rain and fog in recent weeks made Wednesday even more beautiful. It seemed to be one of those times I wished I did not have to work, just take it easy.

The warmer weather surely has increased the use of the Fitness Trail in front of the Hancock Medical Center.

Tuesday night was the first time I had been able to get out in the last couple weeks and I got to see many of the regular walkers.

Traffic on the track during the day for Tuesday was also heavy.

I guess a lot of the folks were trying to get rid of some of the extra weight gained over the holidays.

I am hoping we will continue to have some good weather for a few weeks.

Work has already begun on the auditorium and arts center at Bay High following groundbreaking ceremonies last Monday.

The facility should be one the residents of the area can be proud of and use frequently.

The new facility, which will contain 601 seats, will be used for many functions.

The auditorium should be completed by October and this will not come too soon for many of the folks who have been waiting 25 years for such a building to be constructed at Bay High.

I am glad the Bay-Waveland School District's board members saw the need to provide the facility.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Examine use of education funds before raising taxes

Dear Editor:

Education reform and the BEST plan are consuming Gov. Mabus and the Legislature. Like all changes in government, money (or where to get it) is their overriding priority.

Sure, ask 1,000 people on the street, "are you in favor of better schools?" and the consensus will be positive (including me), but tell them all the facts about budgets and see how many would approve any kind of tax increase—both state and local school taxes jumped twice as high as inflation during the '80's, while fewer students attended.

Though a sales tax increase is a proven method of enriching the treasury, sales taxes hurt most those who can least afford it: the poor, people on disability or Social Security or other fixed income. Sales taxes also hinder attracting new industry therefore new jobs.

As stated by Gov. Mabus, we did not use for education all the money raised by tax increases during the last "reform." According to an article in the paper last week, Mississippi spends 60 percent of its budget in education...more than a dozen other states.

Before we are saddled with new taxes perhaps a closer look at how current funds are utilized is in order. So, ask your legislators for a review and state no new taxes!

Royce P. Kaupp

Everything you need to close down a crackhouse.

You aren't helpless when crime invades your neighborhood. You're fully capable of helping police and they're ready to show you how.

The case of The Stanton Park Stand-off.

When crack moved into a row house on a quiet block of Stanton Park in Washington, D.C., folks decided to serve an eviction notice.

They met with police to find out what they could do to keep drugs out of their neighborhood.

The cops told them to keep an eye out—to let police know whenever something suspicious happened. They began to notice faces. They wrote down license numbers of strange cars.

They noted the times of odd behavior.

They worked with each other. They worked with the police. Armed with field glasses, note pads and telephones, folks kept track of the neighborhood.

Within one month, enough evidence had been gathered. Police moved in. Crack moved out.

Citizen participation beat crime in D.C. It can do the same for you. For more success stories,

EYES ON MISSISSIPPI

By Bill Minor

House of Representatives was a house divided last week

Mississippi's House of Representatives was a house divided last week in the wake of the first assault on the 1987 reform rules which had ended decades of a powerful speakership system in that legislative chamber.

The rules change move—aimed at purging members of the important Rules and Management Committees who are no longer in favor with Speaker Tim Ford—failed by one vote to get the required three-fifths majority.

Needing 72 votes for approval, the proposal got 71. Of the 121 current members of the House 49 voted against.

Ford, who had earlier disclaimed any connection with the move, tried to appear unshaken by the result. But it was evident that the momentum quickly began to swing against Ford, as "dumb Ford" talk immediately began to buzz around the Capitol.

"I think the fight changed from a rules fight to a fight over the speaker," said Rep. John Grisham of Southaven, who had filed the motion to amend the rules. Grisham said it was his belief that Ford "initiated this effort (to change the rules)...he can't deny it." Afterward, Grisham said his own signing the petition for the rules change was "ill-advised."

He said he served notice on Ford that if a race to unseat Ford as speaker developed "I was not going to be with him."

Grisham joined a group of lawmakers led by Rep. Bennett Malone of Carthage who launched a movement to call a new election for speaker and draft Rep. Ed Perry of Oxford as their candidate. Perry, the stubby 22-year House veteran who was defeated for the speakership by Ford in 1988, said he didn't encourage the draft movement, but once it was underway he didn't discourage it.

Significantly, many of the House members who had helped elect Ford in 1988 were rallying to Perry's side because they felt Ford had joined with a group of anti-progressive House members in precipitating a split in the House over changing the reform rules.

The well-liked Perry, some said, was the only person who could now unify the House.

Supporters of the rules changes who met with Ford behind closed doors not long after the vote last Friday claimed that 68 lawmakers signed pledge cards supporting Tim as speaker. A majority vote—or 61 votes—would be required to elect a speaker.

The figure of 68 votes for Ford was challenged by Malone who said four of those attending the closed-door meeting told him they had made no commitment to vote for Ford if a speakership election is called.

"I don't believe they have the votes to keep Tim, and we don't have the votes yet to elect a new one," Malone said last weekend. "I think there are 20 to 25 votes out there that could be gotten by either side."

There were reports of strong-arm tactics being used by some Ford rules change supporters against members who declined to go along with the changes. One lawmaker, Rep. Scott by Sen. Vic Franckiewicz Jr.

REPORT FROM THE SENATE

Franckiewicz experiences first week as senator

My first week as your Senator in the Legislature was both educational and exciting. My Senate colleagues say that the 1990 Session will be a tough one because of a number of critical issues which have far-reaching implications, not just for this new decade, but well into the 21st century.

The most important work on legislation takes place in committees. I have been assigned to the Agriculture; Elections; Fees, Salaries, and Administration; Municipalities; Ports and Industries; and Business and Financial Institutions Committees. In addition, I was appointed vice chairman of the Executive Contingent Fund Committee.

Education remains the most important topic in the Legislature. Governor Mabus addressed a joint session of the Legislature to encourage passage of his ambitious $500 million BEST education reform package. He spoke eloquently about investing in the future of Mississippi by investing in school children.

Since meeting with educators and parents around the state last fall, the Senate Education Committee has developed its own version of a bill which incorporates many of the concepts of the governor's program and fine-tunes some of them.

A House committee has done the same. Even though the Governor the House and the Senate are not yet in full agreement, I believe that meaningful educational reform will happen.

We really have no choice if we are serious about Mississippi's future. As a state, we cannot tolerate mediocre results when we are pouring billions of dollars into our educational system. It is unfair to the children and the taxpayers alike. We cannot just spend more money doing more of the same unsuccessful things. That is what educational reform is really about: making a fundamental change in the way we run education in this state.

It puts a priority on results instead of bureaucratic formulas and regulations. It involves the family, the community, and modern technology in the schools. Finally, it will hold schools accountable for doing the job they are paid to do.

I honestly believe that we have been willing to accept lame excuses for our educational system's poor performance. Educational reform this year is our chance to quit whining about why our schools fail and to do whatever it takes to make them succeed.

I would be glad to receive your input on these and any other issues during the Session. You may call me at 359-3770 and leave a message which I will return as soon as possible or write to me at the Mississippi State Senate, P.O. Box 1018, Jackson, MS 39215-1018. On weekends, I may be reached at 467-2399.

FROM THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Older Mississippians deserve protection from abuse, neglect

"Not my momma."

Those of us with loved ones in long-term care facilities couldn't think anything different if we heard a report of a resident being abused or neglected.

Now the Mississippi Legislature has a second chance to fill a void in state law that lets abusers of our senior citizens slip through.

The Nursing Home Patient Abuse Bill, which failed to make it through the Senate in the 1989 session, will be introduced this year by both Sen. Rick Lambert of Hattiesburg and Rep. Ken Stribling of Jackson in the form of a proposed amendment to the state's Vulnerable Adult Act. It promises to fill an important gap left open in the original law.

Like last year's bill, the new legislation would make it a felony punishable by 20 years' imprisonment to physically, psychologically or financially abuse a resident of a long-term care facility.

Harmfully neglecting a resident would constitute a misdemeanor subject to a $1,000 fine and/or imprisonment up to a year. Currently we have no such protection for our older Mississippians in long-term care.

The new bill will also require reporting of suspected abuse or neglect, and failure to report would constitute a misdemeanor.

nor, punishable by a fine of $500 or a six-month jail term. A "whistleblower" clause would protect anyone reporting abuse from retaliatory firing by an employer.

Lambert said last year's bill failed due to a lack of time and the complexity of the bill. He said that many legislators, however, recognized the need for updating the law to protect older adults who are living in care facilities.

Members of the nursing home industry have expressed fears that the bill would unfairly single them out. However this year's bill simply states that any facility already required to be licensed for long-term care would fall under the proposed law. That includes, for the most part, nursing homes and those wings of hospitals licensed and operated as long-term facilities.

Instead of creating a complex new statute, Lambert and Stribling have offered a workable amendment to stop offenders who slip through the reach of the current Vulnerable Adults Act.

Luckily, incidents of abuse and neglect of our older Mississippians have been few. But when the unthinkable occurs again, a punishment that fits the crime would be better than just being left to say, "Not my momma."

one time.

Robertson has been to Panama before.

"It's not a bad place to be when it's peaceful," he said, describing the weather as mild and the local residents as friendly.

This time, however, the reservists were confined to the base on Christmas Day due to the Noriega ouster. Robertson himself flew a supply to the American embassy in Honduras and got his Christmas dinner there.

"The routes were open between the American bases but it was still pretty restrictive until Noriega was captured," he explained.

It was difficult to get a telephone call through to the U.S., but he was able to call his wife.

"From what I saw, the Panamanian people were glad we were there. Noriega's tyranny had no rhyme or reason. He wasn't after a particular class of people, his soldiers just went after anybody," Robertson said, adding that he feels that factor contributed a great deal to how cooperative local residents were during the liberation efforts.

Leonard Kergosien will not be back from Panama until next week, and then it is likely that he will be sent right back down there in February, according to his father, Ames Kergosien.

The younger Kergosien has been in the U.S. Army about a year and a half and was scheduled to go to Panama for four months of jungle training next month with a light infantry unit out of Fort Ord, Calif.

His father said Panama has several different types of terrain, making it an ideal training area.

At first, Panamanian civilians were somewhat suspicious of American soldiers.

"They're treating them better now," he said.

Because his son is in a combat unit, Kergosien said he was probably one of the first people sent to Panama.

"His type of unit is usually among the first in, but they're also some of the first people out," he said. "We were worried about it but it was something he had to do, and we're real proud of him," he added.

Kergosien last spoke to his son on the same day Noriega turned himself in to the Vatican Embassy. He heard about it about 15 minutes after he hung up the phone from talking with Leonard and said his son did not know Noriega was no longer free at the time.

Leonard Kergosien told him of having to stand in line for two and a half hours to be able to call home, but he also managed to find a pay telephone downtown that was still working and so was able to call back a second time.

Lujean Carter said she has not talked with her son, Scott Carter, since Christmas Eve, but that Scott has been able to call his wife Christy several times.

Carter joined the U.S. Army with the intention of becoming a career officer and left for Panama Dec. 1 on a one-year assignment with an intelligence unit.

His mother said she does not know if her son will now remain in Panama the full year or not.

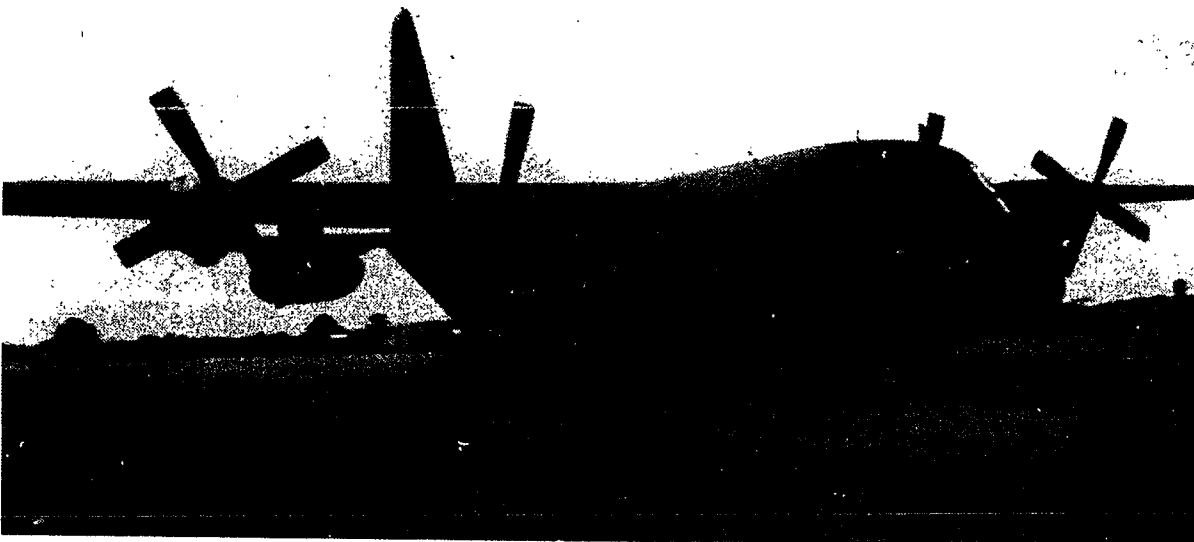

He had been there only 18 days when the Noriega situation arose.

She said a friend called her to ask if she was all right, then found she had not had the television on and had not heard the news.

"We were glad to hear from him and find out he was okay. He had just gotten over there and we didn't know if he was involved or not. I was scared to death," she said.

She added that when she last talked with Scott, she asked him if he had been involved in any fighting and he said, "no, not really."

"He told me there was 'still some firing going on, but it was just a little, like sniper shots,'" Lujean Carter added.

Rates

discussed.

Ward Two Alderman Bob Hubbard's motion to set the rates at the old $17.95 minimum died for lack of a second after discussion proved that the matter was not that easy to remedy.

Although she agreed with going back to the old minimum rate of $17.95 for regular-sized water meters on a temporary basis only, Ward Four Alderman Stella Frilot protested at the meeting that the old ordinance was not fair either.

The board is planning a workshop to decide how to amend the ordinance they went back to Tuesday night.

A date has not yet been set but it will be at least 10 days before the discussion is held because Water and Gas Department head Charles Bourgeois asked for time to gather some statistics to present to the board.

One of the problems in considering the ordinance, according to Board Attorney Lucien Gex, is that all businesses do not use the same amount of water.

The 10,000 gallon minimum currently approved for both residential and commercial users might be appropriate for a business equipped with a single toilet and sink, but there are also heavy users such as laundromats and car washes to be considered, he said.

In addition, the board will have to come up with an ordinance fair to such customers as apartment complexes, many of which are only partially occupied, and hotels.

Another situation complicating the matter is that some businesses have their own water meters, most of which are the regular-sized meters also used for residences.

Others, however, share a meter, with the landlord and tenants working out payment arrangements among themselves.

Some have a mixture of both. Delmer Wilcox, who manages Our Shopping Center, gave an example—the National grocery store, the drugstore in the complex and a restaurant each have their own meters. Smaller businesses in the section facing Waveland Avenue, however, are sharing meters.

The ordinance to which the board has reverted was set up on a "per establishment" basis, unlike the city's sewerage ordinance, which is on a "per door" basis and requires every business to pay a sewerage bill.

Altering the water ordinance to place charges on a "per door" basis opened another line of questions among the aldermen—what happens when a business is vacant?

Frilot wanted to know if the owner of the building will have to pay a minimum for the vacant business, particularly if everyone in the building is on the same meter. She said she has already received complaints that owners of vacant apartments have to pay.

Although the Farmer's Home Administration had asked the board to restructure and raise its rates as a prerequisite to obtain a loan for sewerage extensions in Wards One, Three and Four, the board's only action thus far has been on commercial rates.

Frilot, however, has never favored raising utility rates. She has stated that she believes the rate system is unfair and has said she would be more willing to approve a tax increase because it would spread the burden of supporting the city more evenly rather than discriminating against a particular

Ross of West Point, said he had received "veiled threats, and some not so veiled" from a leader of the rules change forces "that legislation I was interested in or affected my county would be killed" if the rules proposal failed.

Ross, who declined to identify which lawmaker made the threats, voted against the change.

Supporters of the rules change had held a series of meetings around the state during December—at which they were claiming to have 80 votes in favor of the proposed amendments to the rules.

Under the proposed rules change, new elections of members to both the Management Committee and the Rules Committee would have been ordered.

Also under the rules change, Speaker Pro Tem Cecil Simons, with whom Ford has been feuding over dismissal of a longtime House staffer last June, would have been removed as automatic chairman of Management, which oversees the House operating budget, personnel and travel expenses of House members.

Simmons, a veteran of 18 years in the House had been a key figure in the 1987 rules reforms and headed the coalition which elected Ford speaker in 1988.

Simmons, a leading strategist in opposing the rules change, accurately predicted 49 votes in opposition to the change.

Free weight reduction series offered by Extension Service

A free weight loss series will begin Jan. 18. The six-week program will meet Thursday at 9 a.m. at Coast Electric Crew Room, Bay St. Louis.

The program will include weekly weigh-ins, group discussion, a lesson on nutrition or behavior modification and exercise.

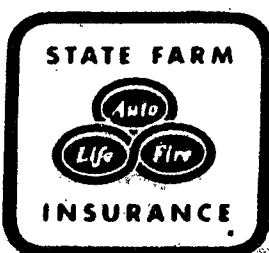

The first class will familiarize clients with the Weight Off Wisely diet, setting a realistic goal weight, and overview of the series.

These lessons are being provided at no charge by the Hancock County Cooperative Extension Service.

Post 3253

The regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary Post 3253 and the annual Christmas party was held December 13.

A delicious buffet dinner was served and Christmas gifts were exchanged.

After the dinner, the meeting was called to order by President Jean Lewis and the chaplain, Mamie Carver, read the opening prayer. Mrs. Lewis led the Pledge of Allegiance. The roll call of officers was made by Secretary Audrey Heyd, who read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were accepted.

Honored guests on this joyous occasion were Mrs. Lee Melton, past department president, who is also district president, and Marie Ware, district and department Secretary.

December was a very busy month. We had a Veterans Christmas dinner at the post home on the 15th, attended by 41 veterans from the V.A. Hospital and those veterans who reside at Hotel Reed Nursing Center.

The veterans from Hotel Reed were accompanied by Beth Grunzinskas, director of activity, and Connie Gersendfer, director of nursing.

We thank the American Legion Post 77, who furnished the transportation and John C. LaFontaine for his time and patience in driving the veterans to and from the V.A. Hospital.

Roland Wohlschegel and Arthur Leinweber were the chefs for the occasion.

Members of the Ladies Auxiliary helped with the serving.

We now sponsor two prize bingo games each month at the Hotel Reed Nursing Center (second and fourth Thursdays). Mrs. Roland Wohlschegel are in charge of all arrangements for these parties.

Forty and Eight

The Forty and Eight, Voiture 432, the honor society of the American Legion, will have a fish fry Saturday, Jan. 27 from 5 to 8 p.m.

Proceeds will benefit the nurses training fund. Cost of tickets is a $3 donation. The event will be held at American Legion Post 77, Coleman Avenue, Waveland. Take outs will be available.

Diamondhead AARP 4228

The next meeting of the Diamondhead AARP chapter will be Jan. 9 at the Diamondhead Community Center at 3 p.m.

Speaker will be Marie Wise of Gulfport Memorial Hospital. She will speak about 'Health Care.'

Members are asked to bring canned and non-perishable food items for the Food Pantry.

Pass Christian
Garden Club

The Pass Christian Garden Club held its Jan. 4 meeting at the Hancock Bank Civic Center.

At this meeting the group recognized Mary Davids, one of its members who had been selected as Pass Christian's Outstanding Citizen for 1989.

All members were urged to attend the Flower Arranging Workshop on Jan. 11. Lunch will be served. Volunteers are needed for the Annual Flower Show, which will take place on April 26, and were asked to contact Peggy Carter, chairman.

The Arbor Day program will begin at 9 a.m. on Feb. 9. The club has applied for the Tree City U.S.A. designation and also plans an Arbor Day tour of the oldest oak trees in the city.

All members who have the time were asked to assist working in the Wild Flower Garden on Mondays.

Guest speaker was JoAnna Hudson of the Green Thumb Garden Club who demonstrated 'Creative Art of Floral Design in the Home' and topiary arrangements.

It was announced that the president of Mississippi Garden Clubs has asked members to attend the Solid Waste Management Conference on Jan. 16 in Jackson.

The 61st annual convention of Mississippi Garden Clubs is to be held April 18-19 in Columbus.

The next meeting will be Feb. 1 at the Hancock Bank Civic Center at 11 a.m. Speaker will be Mrs. John G. Drevar, president, Hattiesburg Area Rose Society, who will speak on 'Pruning Roses.'

Hancock County
Historical Society

By Page Poolson

As we turn the page to 1990, our "Historical Society" will continue prospering and growing under the diligent auspices of our newly elected president, Dr. Lawrence (Larry) Heller, just as it has enlarged and thrived beyond expectations under the tender, loving care of our esteemed past president, Charles Gray.

Charles created a miracle, expanding membership from 31 to 267 in two short years. During his officiating, the society inherited our cherished Loblano house on Cue Street; he inaugurated a dearly prized Antique Shop on Court Street; and our records are bulging with 45 to 50 thousand documents (gratefully accepted from generous donors) that will be carefully documented on a much welcome and newly acquired computer.

Any time you wish, you may come by our office on Court Street and see his enchanting files of hundreds of photographs of houses and mercantiles now gone from our earthly vision, as well as numerous presently existing ones. It's all in order, and Charles can name just about every resident and owner of any given structure.

Charles insists he did not do it alone and gives great tribute to the many who worked diligently on all our behalf; but, try to catch him when he is on a mission for our "Society," and you appreciate his untiring efforts. His grand success may be owing also to his infectious zest for life, charming anecdotal, piquant, accounting of factual history and a knack for promoting love among the multitudes. We are thankful he is still with us in an official capacity as historian. Thanks Charles, we are delighted!

Larry Heller's plans for our future promise to be busy and enjoyable. He envisions exciting excursions to places with provocative histories and a number of night meetings for those who haven't been able to join our "on the move" society. He will thoughtfully accommodate board members by regulating gatherings to one hour before the usual monthly assembly and luncheon.

He is encouraging all interested readers of this column to come to the next meeting held on each third Thursday at noon in the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club. You will surely meet friendly folks and enjoy a delicious meal.

Larry also has four proposed Antique Show Sales in the works since the November effort at Gulfport's Community Center was so successful. Two are already scheduled for May 25, 26 and 27 and Nov. 9, 10 and 11. We look eagerly forward to this administration. Welcome, Larry!

Many of our citizens left these frozen shores for the recent holidays to be with not often seen loved ones. Woody and Barbara Brodtmann and three-year-old Beau aimed their sights on a Merry Christmas with Barbara's mother and family in Jupiter, Fla. Merciless weather and an icy interstate made refugees of our little band of merry-makers and forced them into a makeshift center in Live Oak, Florida's high school. It was no way to spend Christmas Eve, nor Barbara's birthday, but miseries were made less burdensome by the pleasant company of the school's principal, an old friend of Woody's from New Orleans. And, as the little Lord Jesus would have it, the frostbitten nomads made it to Jupiter and Barbara's mother in time to celebrate her birthday and his. A belated happy birthday, Barbara. We regale with you at the joyful turn of events.

Mississippi Jazz Society

The Mississippi Jazz Society will hold its annual Mardi Gras Ball 7:30 p.m. Monday, January 29 in the Crystal Room of the Royal d'Iberville, Biloxi. Costumes are optional.

Spinners' group hosts Rock Day

BY DENA BISNETTE

More than 60 spinners with wheels of all descriptions came to the Pass Christian Yacht Club Saturday to participate in Rock Day 1990.

"Rock Day" is named for an ancient English holiday which fell on Jan. 7 and was also known as St. Distaff's Day. The tradition of having a Rock Day in the New Orleans area began in 1970.

The name "Rock" comes from the German word "Rocken", which means distaff. The holiday followed the Twelfth Night, the last day of Christmas festivities, and it was on Rock Day that the maids were supposed to resume their usual chore of spinning, according to Marilyn Kluger in her book, The Joy of Spinning.

Cynthia Crull of Bay St. Louis is president of the Dyed-in-the-Wool Weavers and Spinners Guild, which hosted Rock Day, said this year's event honored Tabitha Rossiter, the spinner who began the New Orleans area event 20 years ago.

Crull said Rossiter was unable to attend the event, but other guests included 63 spinners from Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama, Florida, Tennessee, Colorado and Vermont.

The spinning day featured various types of spinning wheels, other tools, techniques, fibers and products hand-knit or woven from the homemade thread.

Although a "great wheel," named for its comparatively large size, was not among those displayed, the other two major types of wheels were.

Several examples of an upright type, known as a "carriage wheel" because it was small enough to be carried in a carriage by a lady passenger, were among the wheels brought to Rock Day. One of the carriage wheels was a handmade example brought by a man who has already built several wheels but who said he has not yet learned to spin.

The other type, more common and also more recognizable to people who do not spin, is known as the "Saxony Wheel". A number of the spinners were using them, including one enterprising woman who used a bicycle wheel as part of her apparatus.

One of the spinners demonstrated use of a drop spindle, a simple device that uses gravity to twist the fiber into thread, while an experienced spinner sitting beside her showed a younger one how to card sheep's wool.

Although cotton and sheep's wool were among the fibers being used or displayed, a number of more unusual types were also in evidence at Rock Day.

Some spinners traded for mohair supplied by a guild member who raises goats, while a woman with a basket of several types of fibers explained the difference between English rabbit and French rabbit to people interested in weaving with the soft, angora-like yarns.

Home-dyed fibers were also displayed by people with a taste for brighter hues than the monochromatic tones which are natural to most fibers.

There was a good deal of trading going for both raw materials and finished products. Many spinners who are also weavers showed up with various types of products ranging from clothing to wall hangings to sell or swap for raw materials.

The local guild meets at the Pass Christian Library on the second Saturday of each month; the next event is a show of finished products, "Weaving for the Home," which will be presented in March.

Officers in addition to Crull are Gin Ahlswede, vice president, and Florence Donnaway, secretary-treasurer. The group has about 25 members with about 15 actively spinning or weaving.

By Kecia Walker
The Interact Club at Bay High School, a component of Rotary International, received its charter on Sept. 6 in a special ceremony sponsored by the Rotary Club at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club. Since that time, Interact has been extremely busy.

During the month of September, Interact sponsored a prince and princess contest in which Barney Nicaise and Wendy Shaw were selected.

The proceeds from this project will be used to purchase outside benches for the seventh and eighth grade students at Bay High.

For the month of October, a Work Day at the Fitness Track in front of Hancock Medical Center was held on Oct. 21. Also on Oct. 28 at the Fitness Track, Interact and Bay-Waveland Garden Club decorated for a Halloween masked event.

Interact was still on the move on Nov. 21 when they made fruit baskets for the Hotel Reed Nursing Home. They were distributed to the 88 patients at the home.

The tutorial program, which was December's project, was on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 3:15 to 4:15 p.m. for grades 9-12.

The program started Monday, Dec. 4. It was designed to assist those students who need extra help in different subjects.

Other Interact projects consisted of a student body-faculty talent show and Christmas fruit baskets for Chateau de la Mer retirement home. Also a fashion show is being planned for the second semester.

This social and service club plans monthly school and community projects and two international projects yearly.

Interact would like to thank the following people for their donations: John Harris, manager of Jitney Jungle; Ginger Adams, Adams Lorraine Flower Shop; John Kennedy, manager of National; Laura Grimes, manager of Burger King; Sharon Winston, manager of McDonald's; and Bobby Compretta, manager of Winn Dixie. A special thanks goes to all the Rotarians for their support.

Inter-action

Interact activities, clockwise from upper right, include preparations for festivities at the Hancock Fitness Track, Julie Lagasse, Micky Lagasse, Angie Weems, Tami Erlich, Rick Allen, Mac Murphree, Steven Kennedy, Mike Davidge and Bay-Waveland Garden Club members Aggie Thompkins and Nannette Murphree; prince and princess, Barney Nicaise and Wendy Shaw; Hotel Reed Nursing Home activity director Beth Gruzinkas and Travis Collins, LaChina Tillman and Nikki Bell; and Interact sponsor Patricia Clayborn and Michelle Dean.

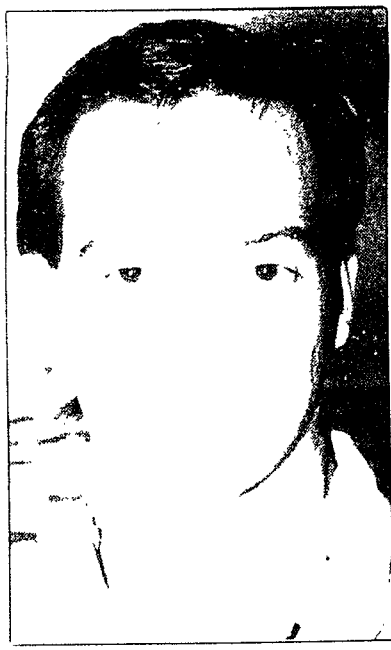

EDUCATION NOTES

Taylor honored by Key Club

St. Stanislaus senior Jeff Taylor has been selected as the Key Club outstanding member for the month of November.

Taylor has been active in many projects of the St. Stanislaus Key Club and he has shown a strong sense of leadership.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Taylor of Pass Christian. The St. Stanislaus Key Club is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Gulfport.

OLA receives science grant

A $2,048 grant has been awarded to Our Lady Academy in Bay St. Louis by the Mississippi Power Foundation to support an elementary high school science education demonstration program.

Dr. Donald Cotten, chairman of the foundation, said the grant will fund a Science Demonstration Squad of 10 to 12 high school students who will develop and present science demonstrations for elementary students.

"Under the direction of a faculty member with expertise in a required area, teams of two to three students will prepare science demonstrations on a topic requested by the elementary teacher," he explained. "The students will present the demonstration at the designated time requested by the elementary teacher."

Initially, the demonstrations will be presented in classes at nearby Bay Catholic Elementary School, and as the program progresses, demonstrations will be available to two local public schools, St. Paul Elementary and St. Clare Elementary. The Science Demonstration Squad will be composed of volunteer junior and senior level science students attending Our Lady Academy. The science department faculty participating in the project includes Theresa Braud, Julie Cranford and Amy Poole.

The Mississippi Power Foundation Inc. is a non-profit organization founded by Mississippi Power Company in support of education in Mississippi.

St. Stanislaus to host financial aid workshop; review of test results

A financial aid workshop for parents of students planning to attend college this fall will be held at St. Stanislaus Sunday, January 14.

Mike Dobbins, college director of financial aid, will present the program at 1:30 p.m. and again at 2:30 p.m. in the audio-visual room on the second floor of the school building.

Parents and students from all area high schools are welcome to attend.

Seventh and eighth grade parents are invited to a 4 p.m. seminar in the audio-visual room to review standardized test results. Science Research Association results will be discussed.

Also at 4 p.m., parents of freshmen and sophomores will meet in the physics lab to discuss the National Educational Development Test results.

Parents of juniors and seniors are asked to see Jim Thrifflay between 1:30 and 4 p.m. to discuss their ACT, Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery, SAT and PSAT/NMSQT results in the Guidance Office.

TIME OUT

By Dena Bisnette

Local sports have just finished their annual time out for the holidays, so this week's column will be short.

Sports news for the area ought to pick up somewhat next week, and I want to remind everyone who has been contributing to this column that we couldn't do Time Out without you.

We appreciate your contributions and hope that in 1990 you'll keep those calls and letters coming.

The third annual 10K Winter Classic has been set for Jan. 27 at 9 a.m.

The event, accompanied by a two-mile health run and walk, starts and ends at the Long Beach YMCA on Pineville Road.

Several businesses are serving as sponsors, including the Y, 94-QID radio, Magnolia Federal Bank, Regina Company and Domino's Pizza. Gulf Coast Running Club is hosting the race.

Entry fee is $7 for GCRC members and $9 by mail if the entry is postmarked Jan. 20 or earlier, and $10 on race day; children 12 and under who want to participate in the two-mile event can register for $5 on race day.

You can mail your name, address, telephone number, sex, age and T-shirt size with your registration fee to Gulf Coast Running Club, P.O. Box 3504, Gulfport, MS 39505. Don't forget to note which event!

Call Lindo Sullivan at 832-6071 or Cindy Archer at 864-1223 for more information.

Cycles Plus Bicycle Club will have "Show and Go" rides on Sundays through the end of March due to the unpredictable weather. Anyone who wants to go along should meet at Bayview and US-90 in Henderson Point in time for a 9 a.m. start.

Linda Reed at Cycles Plus said the mileage and route for the rides will be decided upon just prior to the start; the decision will be largely based on the weather on that particular day.

Some of those excursions will be a bit shorter than the usual Cycles Plus rides, so they might be good opportunities for new riders who aren't sure of how much distance they can do.

For more information, call Cycles Plus at 467-1706.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC MEETING TO RESIDENTS AND PROPERTY OWNERS OF DIAMONDHEAD SUBDIVISION, HANCOCK COUNTY, MS AND OTHER INTERESTED PARTIES

A PUBLIC MEETING will be held at 10:00 a.m., Monday, February 12, 1990 in the Diamondhead Community Center, 5300 Diamondhead Circle, Bay St. Louis, Hancock County, Mississippi, 39520. The purpose of the meeting is to receive statements in support of, or, in opposition to, the Diamondhead Water and Sewer District, a public corporation, borrowing public funds from the State of Mississippi and/or the United States of America, to make improvements to the sewer system which it owns. The system is located throughout the Diamondhead Subdivision and properties contiguous thereto. The proceeds will also be used to construct a regional wastewater treatment plant, the treated effluent of which will flow into the Jourdan River and the Bay of St. Louis in the vicinity of the I-10 bridge over the Jourdan River. The loan, or loans, will be repaid from the operating income of the sewer system. The district is not authorized to levy taxes. All items of interest will be discussed.

Free race clinic series offered at SMH

The Sports Medicine and Fitness Center at Slidell Memorial Hospital and Medical Center will offer a series of five Saturday race clinics for runners who plan to participate in the 1990 Crescent City Classic.

To register for any or all of these free educational programs, call (504) 649-8651.

Mackie Shilstone, one of today's foremost authorities on performance nutrition and physical conditioning, will lead the first clinic which is set for 9 a.m. on Saturday, Jan. 13 in the SMH cafeteria meeting room. He will speak on 'Body Composition for Optimum Performance.'

Shilstone has worked with many nationally recognized athletes, including heavy-weight champion Michael Spinks; All-Star shortstop for the St. Louis Cardinals, Ozzie Smith; Wimbledon doubles champion and winner of the U.S. Davis Cup, Ken Flach; center for the Washington Bullets, Manute Bol; center for the Cleveland Cavaliers, John "Hot Rod" Williams; and Rick Mahorn, center for the world champion Detroit Pistons (now with the Minnesota Timberwolves).

Matching performance demands to nutrition and conditioning is the heart of the Shilstone philosophy.

Shilstone is a graduate of Tulane University and holds master's degrees in business administration and nutrition. He is author of Feeling Good About Fitness and is a member of the American College of Sports Medicine.

The second clinic of the series will be held Feb. 17. Dr. Patricia Aptaker will speak on 'Improving Your Imagery! Improving Your Performance!'

On Saturday, March 3, Dr. Kathleen McDonald will present 'The Female Runner: Catch Me If You Can,' and

'Women's Health Matters In Relationship to Exercise.'

Mackie Shilstone will return on Saturday, March 24 to speak on 'Nutritional Techniques To Enhance Performance.'

The final clinic of the series will be presented on Saturday, April 7. Bill Burke will speak on 'Race Preparation: The Last Week.'

All clinics begin at 9 a.m. and will be held in the cafeteria meeting room at Slidell Memorial Hospital and Medical Center.

HNC girls take tournament title

Bay High North Central girls took the girls' title of the Bayview Tournament Friday night, but the host Hawks' Maroon Tide, Bay High's division, Bay Hawks sailed to a 51-47 overtime lead in their final game against the Lady Tide, then went on to post a win of 54-39.

Rachel Moran led the scoring for Hancock with 19 points, followed by Stacy Ladner with 10, Natasha Ladner with nine, Penny Ladner with six, Eve

Ladner with four and Shawntel Cuevas with two.

In an earlier game Friday night, the Lady Hawks had won 56-33, defeating the Lady Hornets in a contest where a pair of Ladners, Stacey and Eve, led the scoring with 21 points and 10 points respectively.

The boys' title game was a squeaker, with the Maroon Tide winning by a single point over the Poplarville Hornets, 51-50.

In earlier action Saturday, the Bogalusa Lumberjacks knocked Hancock North Central aside 103 to 57 to grab the third place berth in the boys' division.

Leading the scoring for the Hawks were Tyan Ladner with 16 points; Leo Acker, 15; and Tyrone Ladner, nine.

Hancock had also been defeated in a game with Picayune, which the Maroon Tide took 83 to 48.

Topping the Hawks' scoring efforts was Leo Acker with 21 points.

Bay High also participated in the tournament, ending up in fourth place after losing a close girls' game in overtime 47 to 44 against the Lady Tide of Picayune. Contributing points to the Lady Tiger effort were Kinta Ladner, 19; Stacy Sheppard, 16;

Kecia Walker, 6; and Neikel Curry, 3.

Bay High also dropped a game to the Lady Hornets of Poplarville. In another close one, 51-47, Ladner led the scoring with 26 points.

Bay High's boys also lost on the final day of play in a close contest, 65-63, with the Pearl River Central Blue Devils. Scoring for Bay High were Micah Necaise, 21; James Mayfield, 15; Mike Scharp, 12; Will Seymour, 11; and David Weems, 6. The team was in fifth place.

Wildcats' coach aims for consistency in 1990

Bay Community College basketball coach Jerry Cirino said he hopes to see his team hold its own in the 1990 season.

Cirino said he wants to play more consistently and to be a team that can win more games.

The Wildcats' record in 1989 was 13 wins and 13 losses. Cirino said it is time his squad started to play on an even keel.

The Wildcats have posted a 1-1 record following Friday's 61-51 loss to Holmes.

Cirino said his squad played well in the first half, but fell behind 15-14 in the second half.

The Wildcats were 15-15 in the second half, with fatigue set in and the home team dominated the final three minutes.

The Wildcats need a complete game with Gulf Coast at home Thursday. The women are slated to start at 6:30 p.m., with the men's game to follow.

Cirino said Gulf Coast has a well rounded team with good size and outside shooting to go along with a deep bench.

The Wildcats are paced in scoring by Garnet Wilson, who following a 12-point outing Friday, is averaging 17 points and eight rebounds per game.

Oysters

Oyster levels have kept oyster harvests small.

Oyster harvests predict the oyster season to be not much better than previous years, Cirino said. This year holds promise for oyster harvests.

"The oyster harvests are small," Cirino said. "There have been several years of bad oyster harvests and the oyster harvests followed by years of good environmental conditions and good oyster harvests."

Cirino said that this year oyster harvests are small, but he said he found oyster in places where he had not before. This indicates the beginning of an environmental trend change in the Sound, he said.

"We found oyster on Pass Christian reef this year," Cirino said. "We've found spat on Telegraph Reef south of Pass Christian. There hasn't been oyster in any significant numbers in these two reefs in the last 10 years."

Cirino said that while oysters are showing a favorable trend in the very earliest season, he can expect a greatly improved oyster harvest will be in the fall of 1991.

"And that's only if the environmental conditions remain favorable," Cirino said. "There's no guarantee."

Now, all oyster-growing areas in Mississippi waters are closed because of excessive rainfall.

When oyster season resumes, Cirino said that oystermen can expect between 15 and 30 more working days before the oyster population becomes depleted enough for BMR officials to close certain reefs, for the season.

Further information about the openings and closings of oyster reefs may be obtained by calling the BMR oyster hot line at 385-5902.

ATTENTION HOMEOWNERS OF HANCOCK COUNTY

Homestead exemption forms will be mailed to you during the first week of January. Please sign the form, retain the blue copy and return the rest to us in the addressed envelope.

If your exempt status has changed since last year, (became over 65, Social Security disability etc.) do not sign the form mailed to you but come into our office and we will assist you in filing a new form.

If you are new to the community and are eligible for Homestead Exemption, please come to the office and we will assist you in making your application.

If your mailing address has changed, please correct same on the form before returning to us.

PLEASE NOTE: The time allotted to apply for Homestead Exemption is from January 1, 1990 until April 1, 1990. The State Tax Commission will not accept applications after April 1, 1990. Please return your application as soon as possible.

'89 Oyster season

Harvest better than expected considering reef closures due to excessive rain

Mississippi oystermen had only 12 harvest days during the fall oyster season, but they made them count—harvesting almost half of the 1989-90 projected oyster crop.

Oystermen gathered a total of 9,068 sacks of oysters. Earlier in the year, Bureau of Marine Resources biologists projected that a total of 20,000 sacks of oysters would be harvested before the spring 1990 oyster season closes.

Bureau of Marine Resources shellfish biologists say that by the time the spring season closes, oyster sack counts may even exceed the projected total.

Oyster season, which officially began Nov. 13, got off to a rocky start with rainfall forcing officials to keep oyster reefs closed to harvest until Dec. 6 when the oyster reefs in the western Mississippi Sound were opened.

Rain caused another reef closure two days later.

Excessive rainfall causes fecal bacteria to wash out of rivers and bayous into the oyster-growing areas of the Mississippi Sound. If eaten by humans, contaminated oysters may cause such diseases as hepatitis and cholera.

Cirino said that early projections had only estimated about 3,000 sacks of oysters to be harvested from Graveline Bayou for the entire 1989-90 season.

"I think that we may get between 2,000 and 4,000 more sacks from Graveline before the season finally closes," Cirino said.

Cirino added that additional sacks of oysters taken from Graveline may help to offset the lower-than-expected amounts of oysters taken off the Henderson Point oyster reef in the western Sound this year.

Early reports projected Henderson Point to produce 10,000 sacks of oysters but, as of Dec. 31, only 3,000 sacks were harvested there with indications that the harvestable oysters on that reef are depleting rapidly.

BMR officials tried for several years to get federal approval to reclassify Graveline Bayou from a restricted status to a conditionally approved status.

A restricted status on an oyster-growing area means that oysters cannot be harvested from that area for direct consumption. A conditionally approved status means that oysters may be harvested as long as the oyster-growing area meets the criteria specified by an oyster management plan.

John Cirino, BMR shellfish coordinator, said biologists made a sanitary survey of the Graveline Bayou area, to convince federal Food and Drug Administration officials that bacteria counts there are within acceptable levels to classify the area with a conditionally approved status.

A sanitary survey consists of monitoring water movement and rainfall and conducting a shoreline canvass to identify potential pollution sources such as septic tanks and sewage outfall lines.

The impact of these elements on the oyster population is determined by continually sampling water and oyster meat for bacteria content.

Reclassification of Graveline Bayou was finally possible because many of the area residents and businesses hooked into the Gautier sewage treatment system, reducing the number of septic tanks in use in the area.

"We could probably reclassify more oyster-growing areas, if more sewage treatment systems were established, and people stopped using septic tanks," Cirino said.

Since April, the BMR shellfish team has sought federal approval to reclassify the Bay of St. Louis oyster reef from restricted to conditionally approved status.

The reef is located between the U.S. 90 and CSX railroad bridge.

"In our opinion, it warrants a reclassification now," Cirino said. "We would like federal agreement so we won't be cited for non-compliance with the National Shellfish Sanitation Program guidelines."

The BMR shellfish team has documented with water and meat samples that bacteria counts on the reef are compatible with counts on adjacent areas which have been opened for oyster harvest.

"The improved water quality demonstrates that improvements in on-shore sanitary conditions have reduced the public health risk associated with this area," Cirino said.

Cirino said that, if the Bay of St. Louis reef is reclassified and opened for harvest before the oyster season closes, the area could produce between 5,000 and 8,000 more sacks of oysters. A sack of oysters contains between five and eight pounds of oyster meat.

Environmental conditions in the Sound during recent years have kept oyster harvests low. The last good oyster season was in 1982-83 when 366,000 sacks of oysters were harvested.

A flood the following year wiped out the oyster crop, and

'Great Books' group to be organized here

A 'Great Books' reading and discussion program is being organized in the Bay-Waveland area. Interested persons are invited to attend an organizational meeting in the meeting room (Ulman Street entrance) of the City-County Public Library in Bay St. Louis on Tuesday, Feb. 6 at 7 p.m.

In a Great Books reading and discussion group, adults meet informally to read, consider and discuss some of the best books written in the past 2,500 years. Great Books groups usually meet every other week for approximately two hours.

There are no requirements except the desire to learn.

Discussion is guided by two leaders—laymen, not experts—who encourage the group to think about problems of meaning in the great books by raising questions.

The Great Books Foundation is an independent, nonprofit educational corporation and the series being planned will be coordinated by Richard McCullough. For additional information, contact McCullough at 467-6333 or City-County Library at 467-5282.

The financial statements referred to above include only the financial activities of the oversight unit. Financial activities of other component units that form the reporting entity are not included.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards for financial and compliance audits contained in the Standards for Audit of Governmental Organizations, Programs, Activities and Functions, issued by the U.S. General Accounting Office. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

County records do not provide for a self-balancing group of accounts for all general fixed assets, and accordingly, the component unit financial statements referred to above do not include the financial statements of the General Fixed Assets Account Group, which should be included to conform with generally accepted accounting principles. The amount that should be reported in the General Fixed Assets Account Group could not reasonably be determined.

In our opinion, except for the effects on the financial statements of the omission described in the preceding paragraph, the component unit financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit, at September 30, 1988, and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Hancock County, Mississippi
Members of the Board of Supervisors
July 21, 1989

Our audit was made primarily for the purpose of forming an opinion on the component unit financial statements taken as a whole. The supplemental information, as listed in the table of contents, is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not necessary for fair presentation of the component unit financial statements of Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit. The supplemental information has been subjected to the tests and other auditing procedures applied in our audit of the component unit financial statements. In our opinion, the supplemental information is presented fairly in all material respects in relation to the component unit financial statements taken as a whole.

Registration will take place on Tuesday, Jan. 16 in the A. E. Cood Coliseum. All students will register in time segments alphabetically according to the first letter of their last name. Students should report to their faculty advisor before starting the registration process.

Students should report according to the following schedule: Seniors: M-Z, 9-9:30 a.m.; A-L, 9:30-10 a.m.; Freshmen: M-Z, 10-10:30 a.m.; A-L, 10:30-11 a.m.; Juniors: M-Z, 1:30-2 p.m.; A-L, 2-2:30 p.m.; Sophomores: M-Z, 2:30-3 p.m.; A-L, 3-3:30 p.m.

Graduate and undergraduate students attending Evening

School only will register in the A. E. Wood Coliseum on Monday, Jan. 15 from 5-7 p.m. Necessary forms for undergraduates may be picked up in the Registrar's Office, while graduate and non-degree forms will be available in the Graduate Office prior to reporting for actual registration in the Coliseum.

Evening school registration is also scheduled for Thursday, Jan. 18 from 5-7 p.m., and again on Tuesday, Jan. 23 from 5-7 p.m. in the B. C. Rogers Student Center in the Hall of Fame Room. Pick up registration forms in lobby on the west end of the B. C. Rogers Student Center.

All graduate and undergraduate classes will begin on the regular schedule on Wednesday, Jan. 17.

For additional registration information call 925-3219.

EDUCATION NOTES

UM announces spring registration schedule

Registration for the 1990 spring semester at The University of Mississippi will be on Tuesday and Wednesday, Jan. 9-10, at the Oxford campus, with classes beginning on Thursday, Jan. 11.

On the two days of registration, the hours for all offices involved in the registration process will be from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.

On Tuesday, Jan. 9, from 5-7 p.m., a special registration session will be held for part-time students and university employees.

The last day to register or add courses will be Jan. 24, but after Jan. 10, a late registration fee of $10 will be assessed.

Tuition for the spring semester for Mississippi residents will be $68 per credit hour for undergraduate courses and $90 per credit hour for graduate courses.

For non-residents, tuition will be $117 per credit hour for undergraduate courses and $156 per credit hour for graduate courses. The activity fee for all students will be $183.50.

Tuition and fees are due and payable in full at the time of registration. MasterCard and Visa are accepted for tuition charges and book purchases.

Full course lists and further information regarding registration or admission may be obtained by writing or calling the University of Mississippi, Admissions Office, University, MS 38677, telephone (601) 232-7226, or toll-free in Mississippi 1-800-522-5102.

Members of the Board of Supervisors
Hancock County, Mississippi

We have audited the component unit financial statements of Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit, for the year ended September 30, 1988, and have issued our report thereon dated July 21, 1989. As part of our audit, we made a study and evaluation of the system of internal accounting control of Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit, to the extent we considered necessary to evaluate the system as required by generally accepted auditing standards and the standards for financial and compliance audits contained in the U.S. General Accounting Office Standards for Audit of Governmental Organizations, Programs, Activities and Functions. For the purpose of this report, we have classified the significant internal accounting controls in the following categories:

Accounting Controls

- Cash/Revenues
- Expenditures/Budget
- Payroll
- Fixed Assets

Our study included all the control categories listed above. The purpose of our study and evaluation was to determine the nature, timing, and extent of the auditing procedures necessary for expressing an opinion on the county's financial statements. Our study and evaluation was more limited than would be necessary to express an opinion on the system of internal accounting control taken as a whole or on any of the categories of controls identified above.

The management of Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit, is responsible for establishing and maintaining a system of internal accounting control. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of control procedures. The objectives of a system are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Because of inherent limitations in any system of internal accounting control, errors or irregularities may nevertheless occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of the system to future periods is subject to the risk that procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the degree of compliance with the procedures may deteriorate.

Our study and evaluation made for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph would not necessarily disclose all material weaknesses in the system. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the system of internal accounting control of Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit, taken as a whole or on any of the categories of controls identified in the first paragraph. However, our study and evaluation disclosed the following condition that we believe results in more than a relatively low risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements of Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit, may occur and not be detected within a timely period.

Hancock County, Mississippi
Report on Internal Accounting Control
July 21, 1989

Chancery Clerk.

1. Finding

Fixed asset control procedures are inadequate for maintaining an accurate inventory or adequate subsidiary records documenting the valuation of general fixed assets. Therefore, the auditor's opinion is qualified for omission of the General Fixed Assets Account Group, which is a departure from generally accepted accounting principles.

Recommendation

We recommend that adequate control procedures be established to ascertain the historical cost and maintain accurate inventory records documenting the valuation of general fixed assets.

Chancery Clerk's Response

Hancock County has hired an inventory control clerk effective October 1, 1988. Proper documentation is available for the 1989-1990 fiscal year.

This condition was considered in determining the nature, timing and extent of the audit tests to be applied in our audit of the 1988 financial statements, and this report does not affect our report on the financial statements dated July 21, 1989.

This report is intended solely for the use of management and should not be used for any other purpose. This restriction is not intended to limit the distribution of this report which is a matter of public record.

We have audited the component unit financial statements of Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit, for the year ended September 30, 1988, and have issued our report thereon dated July 21, 1989. As part of our audit, we made a study and evaluation of the internal control systems, including applicable internal administrative controls, used in administering federal financial assistance programs to the extent we considered necessary to evaluate the systems as required by generally accepted auditing standards, the standards for financial and compliance audits contained in the Standards for Audit of Governmental Organizations, Programs, Activities and Functions, issued by the U.S. General Accounting Office, the Single Audit Act of 1984, and the provisions of OMB Circular A-128, Audits of State and Local Governments. For the purpose of this report, we have classified the significant internal accounting and administrative controls used in administering federal financial assistance programs in the following categories:

ACCOUNTING CONTROLS:

- Cash Receipts/Revenues
- Cash Disbursements/Purchasing
- Payroll

ADMINISTRATIVE CONTROLS:

- General Requirements
- Political Activity
- Davis-Bacon Act
- Civil Rights
- Cash Management
- Federal Financial Reports

Specific Requirements

- Types of Services
- Reporting
- Special Requirements

The management of Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit, is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control systems used in administering federal financial assistance programs. In fulfilling that responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of control procedures. The objectives of internal control systems used in administering federal financial assistance programs are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that, with respect to federal financial assistance programs, resource use is consistent with laws, regulations, and policies; resources are safeguarded against waste, loss and misuse; and reliable data are obtained, maintained and fairly disclosed in reports.

COMMUNITY SERVICES

Adult Literacy Education

Tutoring sessions for adults who want to learn to read and write are available through the Hancock County Library System. The program is open free of charge to any adult aged 16 and above who wants to improve reading skills to a grade five level.

Each student meets one-on-one with a certified tutor trained in the use of the Laubach Adult Literacy method. Student/tutor units meet at a time and learning center convenient to both. Learning centers for literacy are currently located in Bay St. Louis, Kiln, Waveland, Diamondhead, DeLoaux, Clermont Harbor and Pearlton.

Call the Bay St. Louis Library, 467-5282, for information. Persons who wish to teach adults to read as volunteer literacy tutors are also encouraged to call.

Blood Pressure

Retired Senior Volunteer Program sponsors free blood pressure testing Tuesdays, 10:30-11:30 a.m., American Legion, Post No. 77, Waveland; Wednesdays, 10:30-11:30 a.m., STVP office, Senior Citizens Center, Old Spanish Trail, Bay St. Louis.

Hancock Medical Center Women's Auxiliary (Pink Ladies) conducts free blood pressure testing at the hospital, 8:00 a.m. Tuesdays.

Legal Line

Volunteer attorneys answer legal questions from the general public from 6 to 7 p.m. first Wednesdays at 1-374-4160. The service is sponsored by Harrison County Young Lawyers, South Mississippi Planning and Development District Area Agency on Aging and South Mississippi Legal Services Corporation.

Money Management

The Consumer Money Management Center serves the public by providing free financial consultations as well as informational literature and seminars for employers, educational institutions and civic and professional groups.

Information and assistance from the center relates to various aspects of personal money management including budgeting, credit repayment, insurance, and investments.

Hancock County, Mississippi
Report on Internal Controls
Federal Financial Assistance Programs
July 21, 1989

Because of inherent limitations in any system of internal accounting and administrative controls used in administering federal financial assistance programs, errors or irregularities may nevertheless occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of the systems to future periods is subject to the risk that procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the degree of compliance with the procedures may deteriorate.

Our study included all of the applicable control categories listed above. During the year ended September 30, 1988, Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit, had no major federal financial assistance programs and expended 67% of its total federal financial assistance under the following nonmajor federal financial assistance program: Coastal zone management administration program. With respect to internal control systems used in administering this nonmajor federal financial assistance program, our study and evaluation included considering the types of errors and irregularities that could occur, determining the internal control procedures that should prevent or detect such errors and irregularities, determining whether the necessary procedures are prescribed and are being followed satisfactorily, and evaluating any weaknesses.

With respect to the internal control systems used solely in administering the other nonmajor federal financial assistance programs of Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit, our study and evaluation was limited to a preliminary review of the system to obtain an understanding of the control environment and the flow of transactions through the accounting system. Our study and evaluation of the internal control system used solely in administering the other nonmajor federal financial assistance program of Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit, did not extend beyond this preliminary review phase.

Our study and evaluation was more limited than would be necessary to express an opinion on the internal control systems used in administering the federal financial assistance programs of Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the internal control systems used in administering the federal financial assistance programs of Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit.

Also, our audit, made in accordance with the standards mentioned above, would not necessarily disclose material weaknesses in the internal control systems for which our study and evaluation was limited to a preliminary review of the systems as discussed in the fifth paragraph of this report.

However, our study and evaluation and our audit disclosed no condition that we believe to be a material weakness in relation to a federal financial assistance program of Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit.

This report is intended solely for the use of management, the cognizant agency and the grantor of federal financial assistance and should not be used for any other purpose. This restriction is not intended to limit the distribution of this report, which upon acceptance by Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit, is a matter of public record.

Members of the Board of Supervisors
Hancock County, Mississippi

We have made a study and evaluation of the central purchasing system of Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit, as of and for the year ended September 30, 1988. Our study and evaluation included tests of compliance of the purchase clerk records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

The Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit, is responsible for establishing and maintaining a central purchasing system in accordance with Section 31-7-101 through 31-7-127, Miss. Code Ann. (1972). This system is required for the road and bridge funds. It is optional for the other county funds. In addition to the required central purchasing system, any county may, in the discretion of the Board of Supervisors, establish and maintain an inventory control system on the road and bridge funds of the county. The Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit, has established a central purchasing system for all funds of the county. An inventory control system has not been established. The objective of the central purchasing system is to provide a reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that purchases are executed in accordance with applicable state law.

Because of inherent limitations in any central purchasing system, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of the system to future periods is subject to the risk that procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the procedures may deteriorate.

In our opinion, except for the conditions described below, the central purchasing system of Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit, taken as a whole, provides reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that purchases are executed in compliance with the aforementioned sections.

1. Finding

Section 31-7-103, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), requires that purchases for amounts over five hundred dollars ($500) must have a requisition, purchase order and receiving report. During the audited fiscal year, some purchases for amounts over five hundred dollars ($500) were made without the completed required purchase transaction documents.

Recommendation

We recommend that purchases over $500 have the completed purchase transaction documents as required by law.

Purchase Clerk's Response

Hancock County issued blanket monthly purchase orders for gravel and asphalt. This practice has been stopped for processed gravel and asphalt for fiscal year 1989-1990.

Hancock County, Mississippi
Report on Central Purchasing System
Purchase Clerk Schedules
July 21, 1989

2. Finding

Purchase orders are not prenumbered.

Recommendation

We recommend purchase orders be prenumbered.

Purchase Clerk's Response

Purchase orders are now prenumbered.

The accompanying schedules of (1) purchases not made from the lowest bidder, (2) emergency purchases and (3) purchases made noncompetitively from a sole source are presented in accordance with Section 31-7-115, Miss. Code Ann. (1972). The information contained on these schedules has been subjected to procedures performed in connection with our aforementioned study and evaluation of the purchasing system, and in our opinion, is fairly presented when considered in relation to that study and evaluation.

This report is intended solely for use in evaluating the central purchasing system of Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit, and should not be relied upon for any other purpose. This restriction is not intended to limit the distribution of this report which is a matter of public record.

Pass schools establish K-12 tutorial program

The school board of the Pass Christian Public School District has established an after school tutorial program to help students who need help.

Tutoring will be offered to students in grades K-8 who need help in mathematics, reading and English. The high school, grades 9-12, will offer mathematics and English.

The classes will be held for an hour after school on Mondays through Thursdays beginning on Jan. 16 and ending on April 16. Individual schools will notify parents of the exact schedules. Transportation will be provided.

Principals will send letters to parents of students identified by the teachers as needing help one day in advance. Students will be expected to attend the classes until the teachers say they have mastered the needed skills.

For further information parents may contact the principal of the particular school or Dr. Lorice A. Broome, assistant superintendent, at 452-7272.

Exchange students learn the American way at HNC

Hancock North Central High School enjoyed the presence of five foreign exchange students from various parts of the world. Each student remarked on the differences in lifestyles, school hours, discipline and friends.

Jose Luis Santos Ferreira, from Brazil, stated that he learned new customs, made new friends, and enjoyed being the kicker on the Hawks football team. His host family was Henry and Alice Burkhardt of Diamondhead.

Yago Godard Muniz of Madrid, Spain, has been hosted by Christine and William Hadley of Jourdan River Shores.

Marie and Sam Ladner of the Standard/Dedeaux community are hosts to Sansoles Fernandez, 17, of Madrid, Spain.

Katja Pierift, 17, of West Germany, lives with Mark and Susan Dinscomb of Diamondhead.

Karl H. Krug, 18, of West Germany, lives with host family Sammy and Lorraine Vance of Dedeaux.

Salvant named O'Brian scholar

Shawn Salvant, son of Mrs. Patricia Salvant, has been selected as the 1990 Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation candidate from Pass Christian High School. Shawn will attend the Mississippi Youth Leadership Seminar in the spring of 1990 in Jackson.

The purpose of the Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation is to seek out, recognize, and reward leadership potential in high school sophomores.

The program brings a select group of high school sophomores with leadership qualities together with a group of distinguished leaders in business, science, education, government and the professions and let the two interact.

Annual leadership seminars at the state and international levels take the form of intense but informal discussions aimed at giving the young student a straight forward view of what the world is all about.

At Pass Christian High School, Shawn is an honor roll student. He is a member of the Science Club, Chess Club and the Quiz Bowl. He also belongs to Mu Alpha Theta and is on the tennis team.

1. Finding

Section 27-105-315, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), requires the county to have its uninsured deposits fully collateralized based upon the market value of the pledged securities, and the securities are to be held in the name of the county. During the audited fiscal year, the county invested a substantial amount of proceeds of urban renewal revenue notes issued by the county in two certificates of deposit of an out-of-state bank. The bank had no securities pledged to cover the certificates of deposit at year end. In our opinion, the proceeds from the sale of the notes is the county's money, and therefore should be adequately collateralized in accordance with the aforementioned section.

Recommendation

We recommend that the chancery clerk contact the bank and obtain sufficient securities to ensure that the balance of the note proceeds is properly collateralized.

Chancery Clerk's Response

The funds invested are urban renewal project funds not required for immediate disbursement and pursuant to Section 43-35-15(d), Miss. Code Ann. (1972), may be invested "...in property or securities in which savings banks may legally invest funds..." Section 43-35-15(d), Miss. Code Ann. (1972), does not contemplate collateralization of such investments and, as the more specific legislation, controls this matter rather than Section 27-105-315, Miss. Code Ann. (1972).

Members of the Board of Supervisors
Hancock County, Mississippi

We have audited the component unit financial statements of Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit, for the year ended September 30, 1988, and have issued our report thereon dated July 21, 1989. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards for financial and compliance audits contained in the Standards for Audit of Governmental Organizations, Programs, Activities and Functions, issued by the U.S. General Accounting Office; the Single Audit Act of 1984; and the provisions of H&B Circular A-128, Audits of State and Local Governments, and accordingly, included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

The management of Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit, is responsible for the county's compliance with laws and regulations. In connection with the audit referred to above, we selected and tested transactions and records from nonmajor federal financial assistance programs to determine the county's compliance with laws and regulations noncompliance with which we believe could have a material effect on the allowability of program expenditures.

The results of our tests indicate that for the transactions and records tested, Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit, complied with the laws and regulations referred to in the second paragraph of our report. Our testing was more limited than would be necessary to express an opinion on whether Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit, administered those programs in compliance with all material respects with laws and regulations noncompliance with which we believe could have a material effect on the allowability of program expenditures; however, with respect to the transactions that were not tested by us, nothing came to our attention to indicate that Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit, had violated laws and regulations referred to in the second paragraph of our report.

PETE JOHNSON
State Auditor

RAMONA HILL, CPA
Director, Department of Audit

We have audited the component unit financial statements of Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit, for the year ended September 30, 1988, and have issued our report thereon dated July 21, 1989. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the procedures prescribed by the State Auditor, and accordingly, included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

During the course of our audit, certain matters were detected which require the attention of management. These matters, which do not have a material effect on the component unit financial statements, involve weaknesses in the county's system of internal accounting controls and noncompliance with state laws and regulations. The findings and recommendations of the prior year have been corrected by management unless it is specifically stated otherwise in the following findings and recommendations. Our findings and recommendations and your responses are as follows:

Board of Supervisors.

1. Finding

As reported in the prior year audit report, Section 25-3-41, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), states employees shall be reimbursed for actual expenses such as meals, lodging and other necessary expenses incurred in the course of travel, subject to limitations placed on meals by the Fiscal Management Board, which is $18 per day. During the audited fiscal year, a member of the board of supervisors was reimbursed in excess of the $18 daily limit.

Recommendation

We recommend the board of supervisors comply with the law.

Board of Supervisors' Response

All efforts are being taken to insure that Hancock County is in compliance with this section.

2. Finding

As reported in the prior year audit report, Section 25-1-87, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), states all motor vehicles owned by counties shall be marked on both sides in letters at least three inches in height, and on the rear in letters not less than one half inches in height with the name of the county. While performing the fiscal year 1987-1988 audit, it was observed that a county-owned pickup, tag number C-4599, was improperly marked.

Recommendation

We recommend the board of supervisors comply with the law.

Board of Supervisors' Response

All vehicles have now been properly marked.

3. Finding

Section 19-3-67, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), states that no expenses shall be authorized or approved by any board of supervisors for travel by any member of such board for travel within the county of such board. During the audited fiscal year, a supervisor was reimbursed for travel in violation of this law.

Recommendation

We recommend that all travel by the board of supervisors be done in compliance with the law.

Board of Supervisors' Response

This amount has been repaid.

4. Finding

Section 19-9-29, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), gives specific guidance as to how excess or surplus county funds are to be invested. Specifically, any surplus funds not required to meet the current needs and demands of more than seven (7) business days can be invested in the following manner:

- Such surplus funds can be invested in interest bearing time certificates of deposit with county depositories serving in accordance with Section 27-105-303, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), for periods of from fourteen (14) days to one (1) year.
- Such surplus funds can be invested in like manner as indicated in paragraph (a) above, in a state depository, located within the county, if such depository is eligible for invested state funds.
- To the extent that the board of supervisors cannot invest surplus funds pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) above, for the stated maturity of from fourteen (14) days to one (1) year, the board may invest such funds in eligible governmental debt securities as listed in the aforementioned section.

During the audited fiscal year, the county issued 4.8 million dollars in urban renewal revenue notes and invested a substantial amount in two certificates of deposit of an out-of-state bank on June 15, 1988. The certificates mature three years from purchase date and stand as sole security for payment on the notes that serially mature during the same three year period. In our opinion, the proceeds from the sale of urban renewal revenue notes is county money, and the surplus money investment in the certificates of deposit of an out-of-state bank is in violation of the above section's specific requirements as to how a county's surplus funds are to be invested.

Recommendation

We recommend that the county only invest county surplus funds in the three ways enumerated by the law.

Board of Supervisors' Response

The funds invested are urban renewal project funds not required for immediate disbursement and, pursuant to Section 43-35-15(d), Miss. Code Ann. (1972), may be invested "...in property or securities in which savings banks may legally invest funds..." These investments comply with Section 43-35-15(d), Miss. Code Ann. (1972), which, as the more specific legislation, controls this matter rather than Section 19-9-29, Miss. Code Ann. (1972).

Chancery Clerk.

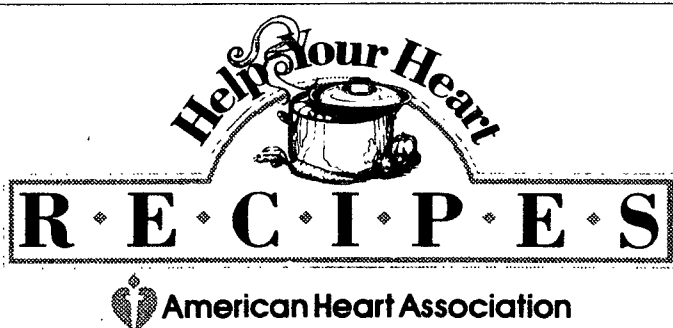

1. Finding

As reported in the prior year audit report, Section 7-7-211, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), gives the State Auditor's Office the authority to prescribe systems of accounting for county governments. During the audited fiscal year, the county did not correctly assign object numbers for certain revenue accounts according to their source, as specified in the prescribed chart of accounts.

Recommendation

We recommend that new revenue accounts be assigned within the ranges prescribed for such revenues according to their source.

Applesauce-Nut Bread

The aroma of spices and apples fill the house when this bread is baking. It turns a cold day warm and is a welcome light dessert — one you'll want to serve often.

3/4 cup	granulated sugar	1 tsp.	baking soda
1 cup	applesauce	1/2 tsp.	baking powder
1/3 cup	corn oil	1/2 tsp.	ground cinnamon
2	eggs	1/4 tsp.	salt
3 tbsp.	skim milk	1/4 tsp.	ground nutmeg
2 cups	sifted all-purpose flour	3/4 cup	chopped pecans

In a large mixing bowl, combine sugar, applesauce, oil, eggs and milk. Mix together thoroughly.

Sift together the flour, soda, baking powder, cinnamon, salt and nutmeg. Beat dry ingredients into the applesauce mixture until well combined. Stir in the pecans.

Turn the batter into well-oiled 9 x 5-inch loaf pan.

Topping

1/4 cup	brown sugar	1/4 cup	chopped pecans
1/2 tsp.	ground cinnamon

Combine the brown sugar, cinnamon and pecans. Sprinkle evenly over the batter, and bake at 350° F. for 1 hour. Cap loosely with foil after the first 30 minutes of baking. When done, remove from the pan and cool on a rack.

Yield: 1 Loaf (16 Slices)

Cholesterol Tip: All the cholesterol in an egg is contained in the yolk. You can reduce the cholesterol in this recipe by substituting 4 egg whites (plus 2 teaspoons of corn oil) for the 2 eggs.

Basic changes told on 1989 tax return

Some basic changes in the tax law that will affect individual tax returns for 1989 includes:

* Income tax brackets will be higher as they are indexed for inflation. If you are married and filing jointly or a surviving spouse and your income isn't over $30,950, you pay 15 percent of taxable income. If your income is above that amount, you pay $4,642.50 plus 28 percent of the excess over $30,950.

* Standard deduction, also

* The consumer interest deduction drops to 20 percent this year. You can take the full interest deduction on a home equity loan up to $100,000 regardless of what you use the money for.

Before getting a home equity loan, analyze your financial situation carefully. Make sure you can pay back the equity loan without problems. You could jeopardize your home if you cannot meet the payments.

CONSUMER UPDATE

indexed for inflation, will go up this year. This makes it important to keep good records on all deductible expenses to see if itemizing is best for you.

The standard deduction for 1989 goes from $5,000 to $5,200 for those filing jointly and for surviving spouses. The deduction for head of household goes from $4,400 to $4,550 this year. Singles receive $3,100 which is up from $2,900.

Next to the standard deduction of $600 if you are 65 or older or if you are blind. The deduction is $1,200 if you are both blind and 65 plus.

Single taxpayers get $750 for age or blindness, $1,500 for both. Indexing did not change these amounts from 1988.

* Personal exemptions go from $1,950 to $2,000 for 1989. After this year, personal exemptions will be indexed for inflation.

* Rules for student dependents have changed. This year 1989, you cannot take a dependent exemption if your child will be 24 years old by the end of the year and has income over $2,000 even if a full-time student.

New tax law applies to dependent care credits

A new tax law change will generally require taxpayers claiming the child and dependent care credit to provide the name, address and taxpayer identification number (TIN) of the dependent care provider with their federal tax returns, according to the Internal Revenue Service.

The new requirement becomes effective January 1, 1989, and will affect 1989 tax returns filed in 1990. Failure to comply may result in the disallowance of the credit which could otherwise provide taxpayers with as much as $720 to $1,440 in tax savings.

"To help taxpayers comply, the law also requires dependent care providers to furnish their customers the necessary information," said Tully Miller, IRS Jackson District director. "Taxpayers may use Form W-10, 'Dependent Care Provider's Identification and Certification,' to get this information."

Form W-10 should be kept with the taxpayer's records in case it is necessary to establish, to the IRS upon request, that he or she exercised due diligence in obtaining this information. It is not to be filed with the federal income tax return.

However, taxpayers must include the information—name, address and TIN—on Form 2441 if they file Form 1040 or Schedule 1 if they file Form 1040A.

If the dependent care provider is an organization exempt from federal income tax and is the type described in Section 501(c)(3), the provider is not required to supply its TIN to the taxpayer. In such cases, the organization completes the name and address portion of Form W-10 and writes "tax-exempt" in the space for the TIN.

If Form W-10 is not used, taxpayers can obtain a copy of the provider's social security card or driver's license (in a state where the license includes the social security number). Taxpayers may also try to obtain a recently printed letter or printed invoice of the provider showing the required information.

In cases where the taxpayer's employer is the provider, a copy of the statement furnished by the employer under a dependent care assistance program, showing the employer's name, address and TIN, may be obtained. If the provider is a household employee and has given the taxpayer a properly completed Form W-4 to have income tax withheld, a copy of that Form W-4 will suffice.

Failure by the dependent care providers (other than tax-exempt organizations) to furnish their correct TINs to the taxpayers can result in a $50 penalty, unless the failure is due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect.

Another provision of the new law required that beginning in 1989, the child being cared for must be under the age of 13 rather than age 15 as in 1988.

More information on the new requirements can be found in IRS Publication 503, "Child and Dependent Care Credit." This publication and form W-10 can be ordered free by calling 1-800-424-3676.

Hancock County, Mississippi
Management Report
July 21, 1989

Chancery Clerk's Response

The chart of accounts used is based on the one prescribed by the State Auditor's Office with additional account numbers utilized as needed. No account numbers were available within the specified ranges for the accounts mentioned.

2. Finding

As reported in the prior year audit report, Section 7-7-211, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), gives the State Auditor's Office the authority to prescribe systems of accounting for county governments. During the audited fiscal year, the county did not maintain an investment ledger and a long-term debt ledger.

Recommendation

We recommend that the county maintain an investment ledger and a long-term debt ledger as prescribed.

Chancery Clerk's Response

The current investment ledger is part of the overall computer system. Effective October 1, 1989, Hancock County has changed to a new computer system prepared by the State Auditor's Office. The new system corrects this. A debt ledger will be maintained by Hancock County for fiscal year 1989-1990.

3. Finding

As reported in the prior year audit report, cash is not reconciled properly by fund.

Recommendation

We recommend that cash be reconciled by fund.

Chancery Clerk's Response

Cash is reconciled by bank account.

4. Finding

As reported in the prior year audit report, Section 19-13-43, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), requires no warrant be issued until funds are available. During the audited fiscal year, warrants were issued when funds were not available in two funds.

Recommendation

We recommend that the chancery clerk comply with the law.

Chancery Clerk's Response

Hancock County will make every effort to be in compliance with this section.

5. Finding

As reported in the prior year audit report, Section 27-33-77, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), states that the homestead exemption reimbursement received by the county shall be distributed by the county treasurer to the general fund. During the audited fiscal year, homestead exemption reimbursements were also received in road funds and junior college funds.

Recommendation

We recommend that homestead exemption reimbursements be receipted according to law.

Chancery Clerk's Response

This has been corrected for the 1989-1990 fiscal year.

6. Finding

Section 63-9-21 (A & B), Miss. Code Ann. (1972), requires that the chancery clerk shall issue ticket books to the sheriff, deputy sheriffs and constables of the county. Also, the clerk is to keep a record of all arrest tickets issued and to whom issued, thereby a counting for all books printed and issued. For the year under review, the procedures set forth in the statute were not being followed.

Recommendation

We recommend that compliance with this statute be implemented.

Chancery Clerk's Response

The justice court clerk performed these duties for the chancery clerk. This will be transferred to the chancery clerk's office to be in compliance with this section.

7. Finding

Section 27-105-371, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), requires any unidentifiable funds shall be settled into the general fund. During the period under review, it was determined that a cash overage existed in the chancery clerk's land redemption account.

Recommendation

We recommend the county make an effort to identify this overage and any unidentifiable amount be settled to the general fund.

Chancery Clerk's Response

The cash overage was settled to the proper individuals July 21, 1989.

Constables

1. Finding

As reported in the prior year audit report, Section 19-19-3, Miss. Code Ann. (1972), requires constables to be bonded for the amount of $25,000 each. During the audited fiscal year, one constable was bonded for $5,000.

Recommendation

We recommend constables be bonded for $25,000 each according to law.

Constables' Response

Constables were properly bonded when the county went from 5 constables to 2 constables on January 1, 1989.

The Mississippi State Auditor's Office has taken exception to certain costs. The details of the exception and disposition are as follows:

Exception Issued On:

Ronnie Cuevas, District 2 Supervisor.

Nature of Exception:

See Board of Supervisors' Finding #3.

Amount of Exception:

$302

Disposition of Exception:

The amount was repaid to Hancock County on July 31, 1989 on receipt number 4706.

The findings in this report came to our attention as a result of the audit procedures and tests that we applied. For those items not tested, nothing came to our attention that would lead us to believe that Hancock County, Mississippi, oversight unit, had not complied with state laws and regulations.

The State Auditor's Office will review the findings in this report on future audit engagements to insure that corrective action has been taken to correct all findings.

This report is intended solely for the use of management and should not be used for any other purpose. This restriction is not intended to limit the distribution of this report which is a matter of public record.

NO PURCHASE NECESSARY—OFFICIAL RULES

1. To enter the High Tea in Great Cities Sweepstakes complete and mail this official entry form or hand print your name, address, zip code and the words "High Tea in Great Cities" on a plain 3" x 5" piece of paper. Mail your entry to "HIGH TEA SWEEPSTAKES", PO Box 3334, Syosset, NY 11775-3334. Enter as often as you wish, but each entry must be mailed separately and received by March 31, 1990. No mechanically reproduced entries will be accepted.

2. One winner will be selected for each of the twenty trip destinations listed in the sweepstakes description, in a random drawing from among all mail-in entries received, and offers/coupons forwarded by LPTON agencies and received prior to the drawing, which will take place by September 30, 1990. Judging will be conducted by National Judging Institute, Inc., an independent judging organization whose decisions are final on all matters relating to this sweepstakes. Prizes are for two and include round trip air transportation, hotel accommodations and meal allowance. Prizes in U.S. and Canada are for four nights; all other prizes are for six nights.

3. All 20 prizes will be awarded and winners notified by mail. Only one prize to a person or a household. Prizes are non-transferable and no substitutions allowed. Trip prizes are subject to availability and confirmation of reservations, and must be taken by June 30, 1991. Taxes, if any, are the responsibility of the individual winners. Winners will be asked to execute an affidavit of eligibility and release. No responsibility is assumed for lost, missing or late entries or mail. Winners agree to the use of their names and likenesses in any promotion activities related to this sweepstakes without further compensation.

4. Sweepstakes open to residents of the U.S. 18 years or older, except employees and their families of THOMAS J. LIPTON, the Lipton Food Company and their affiliates, subsidiaries, advertising agencies, and Don Jago Associates, Inc. The offer is void wherever prohibited, and subject to all federal, state and local laws.

5. For a list of winners, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to: LPTON HIGH TEA SWEEPSTAKES, LPTON, P.O. Box 3340, Syosset, NY 11775-3340.
